

Japanese Knotweed

It's hard to believe that the tall red stemmed plant, with lovely green leaves and sprays of white flowers is such a pest. This summer it has flowered particularly well. It's is the attractive nature of the plant that caused the Victorians to import it as an ornamental garden perennial. It grows to about seven feet (two metres) tall each summer but dies back to below ground level each winter.

Our attention has been drawn to the fact that it is particularly prevalent in Radyr Gardens and Radyr Sidings, where Railtrack and Aviva are trying to eradicate it from railway property. It is also well established along the Taff Trail and around the Ty Nant. It is a thug happily forcing its way through tarmac and and even concrete.

It spreads vegetatively and not by seed but the smallest piece of root or rhizome will grow into a new plant. There are restrictions about the movement and disposal of these plants and their roots which it is worth knowing about and on no account should it be thrown out with garden or household waste. We hear horror stories of neighbours being sued because Japanese knotweed has spread from one property into a neighbours garden and even of house sales falling through because surveyors have found Japanese knotweed to be present on a property.

What to do if you think you might have Japanese knotweed?

The first thing to do is to get expert help. Many weedkillers are not effective against this thug, and even those that are take two or three applications. An expert will also be able to dispose of the roots safely.

Bus to Botswana

Well known Radyr resident, Chris Gray, managing director of C D Gray an engineering company based in Pentwyn, Cardiff has just sent a state of the art mini-bus to Mabele Primary School in Botswana, southern Africa.

Chris visited the school in October 2016 and was so moved by the sight of primary school children having to walk long distances to school in temperatures up to 42 degrees and in dangerous areas, that he decided to raise money for a mini-bus.

It so happened that his company was celebrating it's 25th birthday and so they decided to make Mabele school their project for this important year. Not only have they bought the mini-bus they have also, working with their local Primary School – Glyn Coed – in Pentwyn, filled it with gifts, footballs, tennis balls – Chris is a keen tennis player - school equipment and fans to make the temperature in the classrooms more bearable.

In the photograph you can see Chris with the mini-bus before its departure for Sheerness for a seventeen day sea voyage to Walvis Bay in Namibia. It is hoped that the mini-bus will make its first journey to collect the pupils on the the 16th of October.

Treforgan v Pentrepoeth

There is a move to change the Welsh name of Morganstown from Treforgan to Pentrepoeth, we don't believe that there is any move to change the name of Morganstown in English. We aren't sure from where this idea has come but the Community Council have been approached for their views.

Historian Allan Cook, Chair of the Radyr and Morganstown History Society said, "Morganstown grew up on a farm called Ty'n y Berllan owned by a Morgan that is why the name Morganstown, Treforgan came into being.

The first reference to a "village" at Morganstown is in the 1801 census when it is known as Ty'n y Berllan. When the Taff Vale Railway opened a station in Morganstown, at the back of Pugh's Garden Centre, in the 1840's they called it Pentyrch Halt, because clearly, the new village did not have a name at that stage.

The only reference I've found to a Pentrepoeth is in the Births, Marriages and Deaths registers of Radyr Parish Church. Villages called Treforgan, Pentre and Pentrepoeth are recorded as well as Morganstown – which became the dominant name.

I'm not even sure that Pentrepoeth refers to the village we now call Morganstown /Treforgan. During the Industrial Revolution quite a few small communities grew up in industrial areas, Gwaelod y Garth to mention but one. There was a village between Morganstown and Gwaelod y Garth, which grew up around the Pentyrch Ironworks.

Pentyrch Ironworks was on the west bank of the Taff, north of the Ynys Bridge and was excavated in the late 1970's before the building of the estate known as Riverglade. The village that grew up around it was south of Riverglade under what is now the Gwaelod y Garth Industrial Estate. It is shown on late 19th century maps, and photographs taken from the Viaduct at that time.

This village would have merited the name Pentrepoeth (the Hot Village)

more so than Morganstown, as it would have been very close to the iron works. Morganstown has never had any industrial activity and was accommodation for the iron and coal miners, brickwork workers and the workers on the Taff Vale Railway.

I think a great deal more research needs to be done on the village called Pentrepoeth before the Council - Community or County - spend money on changing the signage yet again".

It might also be worth canvassing the views of the residents of Morganstown.

Radyr Tennis – Ladies 1st team are victorious!

On Sunday 17th September, the ladies 1st team at Radyr Tennis Club took on their biggest challenge yet – competing in the Division 1 play-offs against Swansea. A win at this event could secure a place in the Premier League, an achievement not yet reached by a ladies team at RLTC in recent memory.

To get themselves in position for this exciting opportunity, the team fought hard in the summer league, playing with determination and tenacity to secure their win in Division 1, with plenty of close battles, skillful play and, not forgetting, winning shots!

The main players in the squad during the summer league were Zoe Hunter, Teresa Evans, Zara Cottle, Caroline Lai, Helen Quick, Rachel Evans and Dawn Hodnett. Liz Zyjewski, Lianne Booth and Chloe Taverner also stepped up as substitutes when required.

On the morning of the play-offs, Zoe, Helen, Teresa, Zara, Caroline and Helen met at the Radyr clubhouse for a pre-match team talk – everyone was Dark nights and hedges...

Please could Radyr residents check their hedges, particularly at the top end of Heol Isaf coming from Llantrisant Road. Many of them are extremely overgrown and contain some very large brambles and both the brambles and the hedges themselves overlap the pavement to such an extent it is impossible to walk safely.

I expect many people who do not walk along Heol Isaf are unaware their hedges are causing a problem as they just drive into their property but for people who walk it is an increasing hazard. As the nights will soon be drawing in it is particularly dangerous. The village is used as a rat run for traffic and pedestrians are being pushed closer to the edge of the road, an accident waiting to happen.

So please, pop outside, take your pruning gear out and cut back your hedge to your property to allow safe access for pedestrians. Make the village safer for us all to enjoy. Many thanks.

feeling a bit nervous, a bit excited and very determined.

The first round of matches got underway on the tiger turf courts at Radyr and after the first three rubbers, Radyr were in a comfortable position with a 3-0 lead. They were feeling confident, but wary of thinking that a win was definitely on the cards.

The team remained focused and the second round of matches proved as successful as the first. After several hours of competitive tennis against the Swansea ladies, Radyr secured their victory in some style with a 6-0 clean sweep.

This is a fantastic result for Radyr Ladies 1 and means they have achieved back to back promotions having only been promoted to Division 1 last year. So let's give a huge congratulations to the team and wish them every success in the Premier League in 2018.
Well done ladies!

News from Radyr & Morganstown WI

After the atrocious August weather, it was a relief to begin the September Autumn term activities. Our WI meetings resumed on Monday 11th September and the first meeting of the season proved interesting. Our speaker was Romeo Basini, a direct descendant of Italian pre-war immigrants. He gave a talk entitled "The Italian Connection Part 1". He told how, before the second world war, life in Bardi, a town in Northern Italy, had not changed much in 200 years and a group of young men, lured by stories of "black gold", had set off to walk across Europe in search of it. Some eventually made it to the UK and, specifically, to South Wales, particularly the Rhondda Valley. These intrepid young men also collected ice cream recipes whilst working on their travels and thus began the tradition of Italian ice cream and Italian cafes. At its peak, the Rhondda had 52 coal mines but boasted 54 Italian cafes! It now has no mines but still four cafes. It was a fascinating story which has a sequel "The Italian Connection Part 2" so perhaps Romeo Basini will appear on our programme next year.

On Saturday 23rd September, some of our members will be joining the Glamorgan Federation WI trip to the Malvern Flower Show. Hopefully the weather will be good.

Moving into October, as mentioned in the August edition of the Chain, our WI will celebrate its 60th Birthday. We have rearranged the date of the party for the 26th October as the original published date clashed with a History Society meeting. It will be held in Morganstown Village Hall at 7.30pm and promises to be an evening of music, fun, cheese and wine. Two of our members have agreed to produce a large celebration cake; Jane Parry will bake and Anne McClarg will decorate – who needs Mary Berry or Pru Leith! Any past members who would like to join us for the evening can contact us on our email or speak to any member who will pass on their details to our President, Enid Brooker.

As soon as September is here, we are already receiving reminders of the approach of Christmas! This year our Institute will be participating in decorating a Christmas tree for the Christ Church tree festival which will take place on the first weekend in December. The decorations are supposed to be pertinent to the local organisation it represents and we already have a working group to undertake the project.

At the September meeting, we were also reminded by Anne-Marie of "Operation Christmas Child", that is the Shoebox Appeal. WI members wishing to participate should bring their filled shoeboxes to the November meeting as "Shoebox Sunday" is on 19th November.

So, the year progresses – the speaker for our October meeting on Monday 9th October is Dean Powell who will talk about "The Incredible Life of Dr Price".

All our groups – walking, genealogy and book groups have resumed their activities for the Autumn. If you would like to join us, just come to a meeting as a visitor. We meet on the second Monday of the month at 7.30pm in the Old Church Rooms, Park Road, Radyr. Or contact us on email at:

FILM CLUB

The last two films in the Film Club season before Christmas are;

Miss Sloane. This highly topical political thriller involves the high-stakes world of political power in Washington D.C. Elizabeth Sloane is the most sought after and formidable lobbyist in D.C. She is called to appear before a Congressional hearing to answer questions about violating Senate ethics rules. Where will it lead?

Miss Sloane can be seen at 7.30 p.m. on Thursday October 26th in the Old Church Rooms.

Churchill. Tensions mount for beleaguered British Prime Minister Winston Churchill as D-Day nears in June 1944. Fearful of repeating past mistakes, Churchill is reluctant to embark on the large-scale campaign that the entire war effort hinges upon. Clashing with his political opponents, the troubled leader receives unwavering support from his devoted wife, Clementine. With strength and shrewdness, she tries to prevent his physical, mental and spiritual collapse while inspiring him to achieve greatness.

Churchill can be seen at 7.30 p.m. On Thursday November 23rd at the Old Church Rooms.

FRENCH EVENING (Young Wives)

The old Tennis Pavilion is in danger of fading away quietly and gracefully was resurrected by the Radyr Young Wives Group to enjoy a last exuberant fling!

The 'Jeune Fille' had transformed a room with no floor into a cafe/bar. It grew more French with the flow of red wine.

The guests were suitably dressed for the occasion. A parade was notable, with Gareth Burris wearing onion earrings and Liz Jones with 'suggestive eyelids'. The contest was ably judged by Cllr Frank Elliot, Chairman of the Community Council. He announced the news of a possible French twinning exchange.

The Koyama family visit

Some residents may remember the Koyama family who came to live in Radyr in the 1970s, Mt Koyama managed Takuron, one of the Japanese companies that were established in South Wales at the time.

The two children, Chikako and Hiroshi attended the local schools and made many friends. Hiroshi recently visited Radyr accompanied by his wife, Misako and his mother. A tea party was arranged at Radyr Golf Club and was attended by several of his old school friends and some of his teachers.

It was a lively and happy afternoon during which Mrs Koyama senior was initiated into the mysteries of golf by the youngest person present. Hiroshi hopes to return for a further visit in two years time.

The Secret life of Amateur Dramatics

Following on from the success of April's production of Willy Russell's thought provoking drama "Blood Brothers", rehearsals have started for Radyr Drama Society's November Production of Alan Ayckbourn's "A Chorus of Disapproval".

Returning to the Director's chair is Mike Gelder, bringing a cast of both old and new faces together to bring this light-hearted comedy to the stage. The play will have you laughing and crying as you see identifiable characters' lives and loves come to life with personal stories, trials and tribulations and farcical behaviour.

On stage from November 23rd to 25th at Morganstown Village Hall, the play welcomes the audience back stage and tells the story of Guy Jones as he embarks on his journey with the Pendon Amateur Light Operatic Society, and the secret "wheelings and dealings" that go on between its members.

From bed hopping affairs to back stabbing deals, from love triangles to cat fights, it's all going on off stage and on with this group of actors as they muddle their way through their production of "The Beggar's Opera".

Will the show go on or will it fall at the first hurdle? Will the crowd applaud as the curtain closes or will they be walking out before the curtain goes up? Come and find out for yourself... Tickets are already on sale for this not-to-be-missed play so get yours today from 029 20842585, Enerchi on Station Road, Radyr, or www.ticketsource.co.uk/radyrdrama

To the Editor

An unnamed writer to Radyr Chain in the August edition expressed 'disgust' that the Council has given permission to open a Co-op next door to the Spar. Competition is healthy as is choice and the council had no reason to decline the application from Co-op.

Spar is a franchise of a multi-national chain owned by a Dutch company. Co-op is a British company. It sources a lot of products in the UK which supports British farmers; is a leading campaigner in Fair Trade and supports environmental sustainability such as avoiding products with palm oil which is sourced from rainforests which leads to their destruction.

These are just three of the reasons I shop in the Co-op and I look forward to the store opening in Radyr.

Yours sincerely , Anne Morgan

I'd like to congratulate Tom Lockyer on his selection again for the Welsh senior football squad for the latest round of world cup qualifying matches.

Tom is a former pupil of Radyr primary and comprehensive schools and was a very talented footballer as a youngster.

This has continued since signing as a professional with Bristol Rovers in 2013. He has now played over 200 games and he's still only 22.

Here's wishing you ,Tom, all the best for the future. You're doing Radyr and Morganstown proud.

Operation Christmas Child

(Shoe Boxes)

Since 1990 Operation Christmas Child has been blessing children around the world with gift filled shoe boxes packed by children and adults in the U.K. It's a campaign supported by thousands of schools, churches and other organizations between September and November each year. It is now the largest children's appeal in the U.K.

It aims to meet critical needs of war, poverty, disease and natural disaster. For many children it is their only Christmas present.

Locally, I start contacting our 2 churches, schools and organizations in Sept. Generally we hold our Shoe Box Sunday in Nov. when all our shoeboxes are placed in Christ Church for a blessing. The following day, volunteers come to collect them, then take them to a warehouse for sorting and packing. All people involved in this scheme are volunteers. The warehouse for the last 2 years has been in Llantrisant where hordes of people (and children) work for hours in very cold conditions. (No heating). Each box is opened and unsuitable contents removed. It is far preferable to leave the box untouched as the donor planned it.

Any unsuitable contents are given to Charity shops etc. The boxes are tightly bound with coloured tape before being crated for transport. It is an amazing operation to witness!

We are in South East Wales district and in 2016 Llantrisant warehouse processed 35,092 shoe boxes!

With your help we sent-
16,375 to Zambia
9,673 to Albania
2,696 to Romania
6,348 to Belarus

It is basically a Christian Organization and the children are given a leaflet on the Christmas story. This can be followed up by attending a type of Sunday school. Many people travel annually from U.K. to help distribute the boxes and return with very moving stories.
